Problem

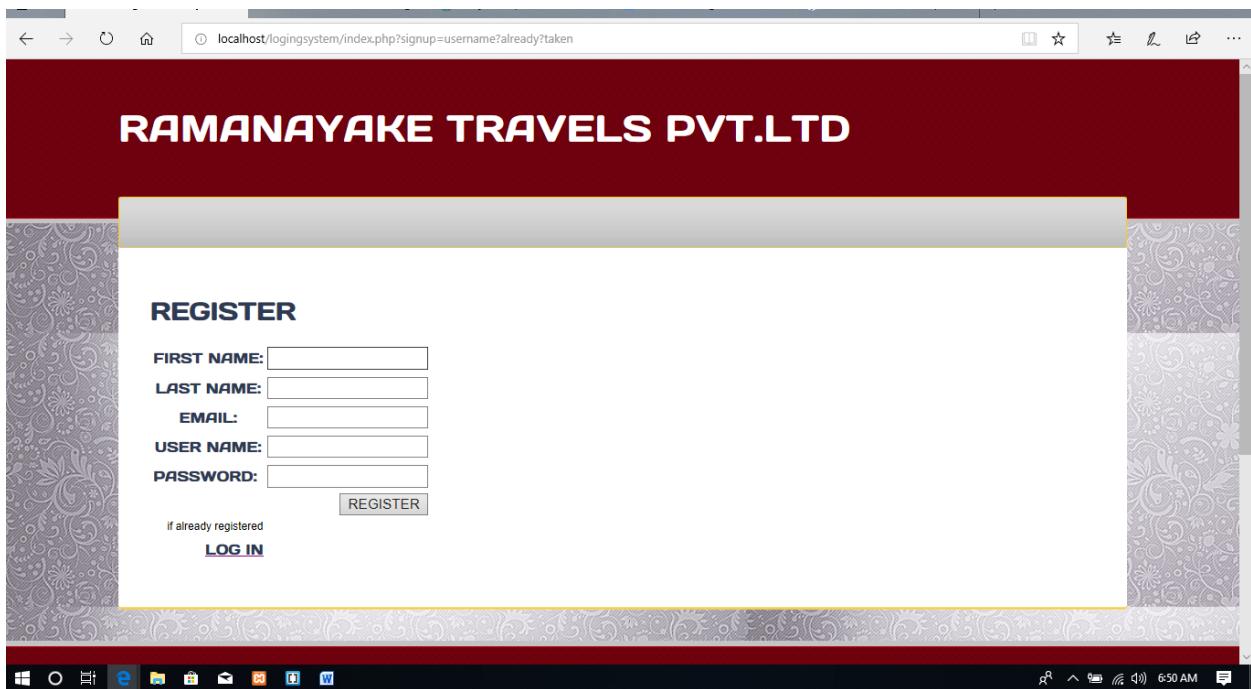

Ramanayake Travels Pvt.Ltd is a leading vehicle renting company with over 8 years of experience in the industry, they strive to offer the highest levels of customer service and a highly personalized service to all our customers who are on the lookout for Sri Lanka car rental opportunities.

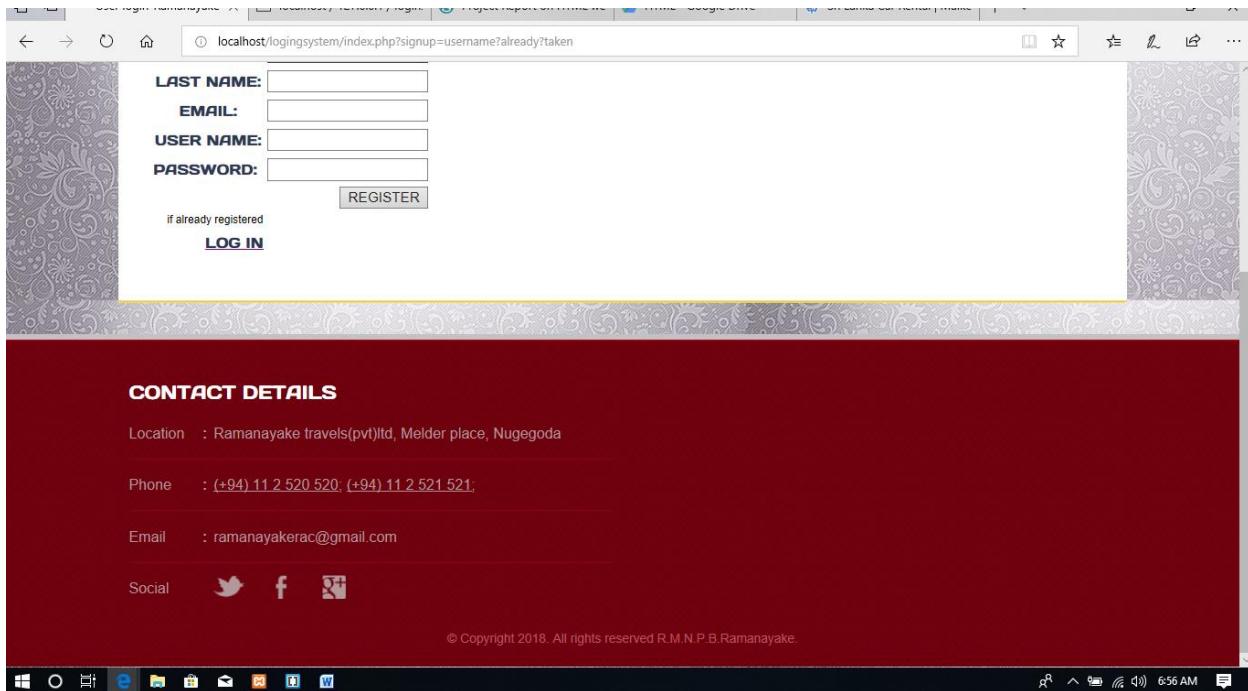

But the main problem they were faced was they didn't own their own web site with them .So, to solve that problem we came up with a solution which is consist with several html,css,php,java script,my sql data base

Solution

The solution is mainly consist with several several html,css, my sql data base ,php,java script, source code pages.this part of this project is to describe about that source code

1. Sign-up page(index.php)

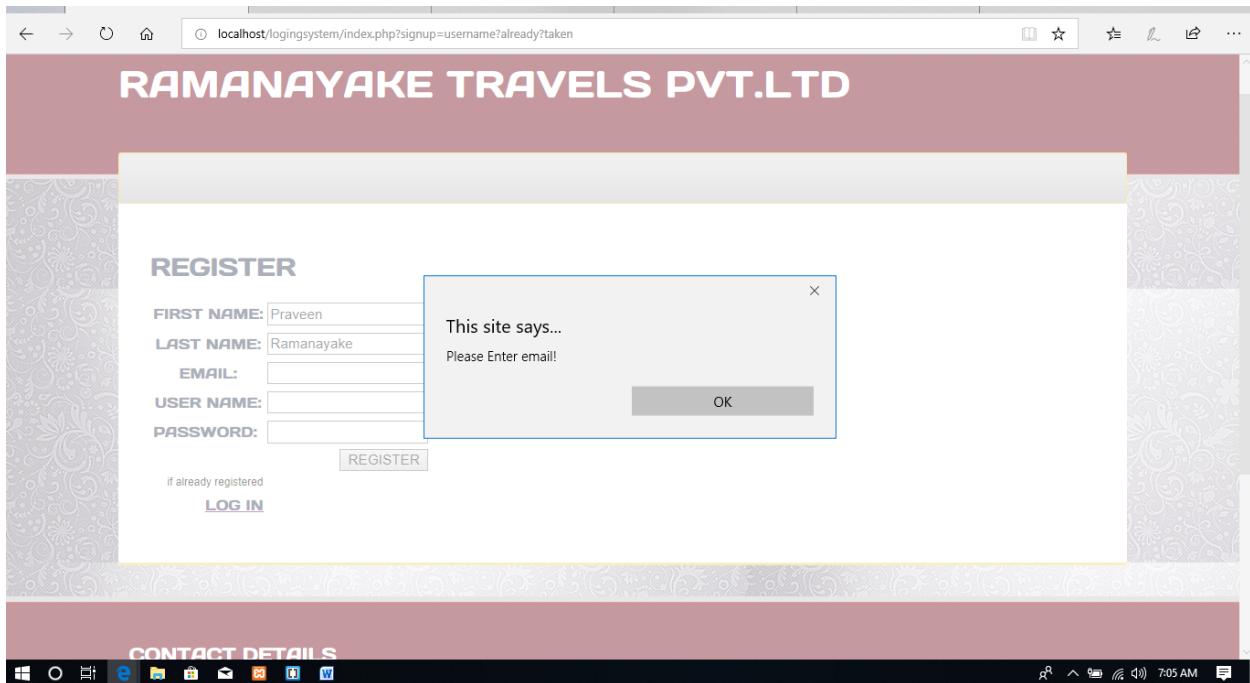

Description main functionalities:

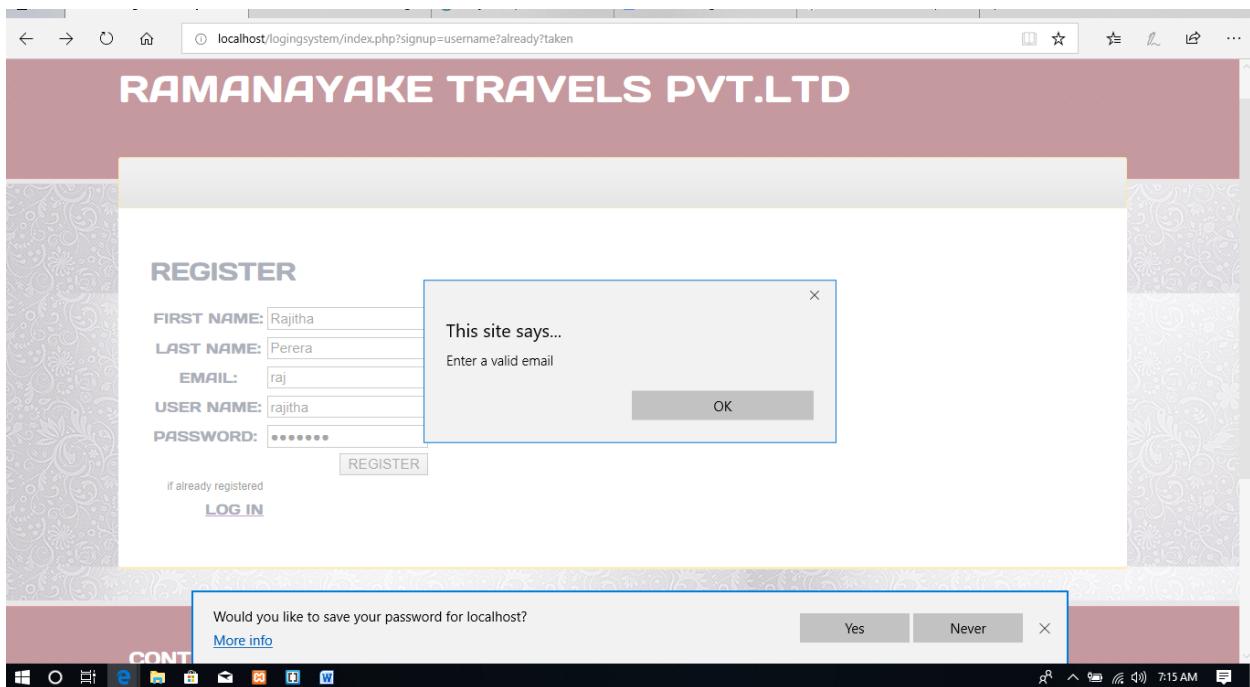

In this page user have main 2 options .one is to enter the fields and register and other option is Log in for the already registered users(by clicking that link will direct to the log in page)

In the footer division it is consist with main information of the copanay.In the social media part it is consist with icon of twitter,facebook,google+ which are linked to the respective web sites

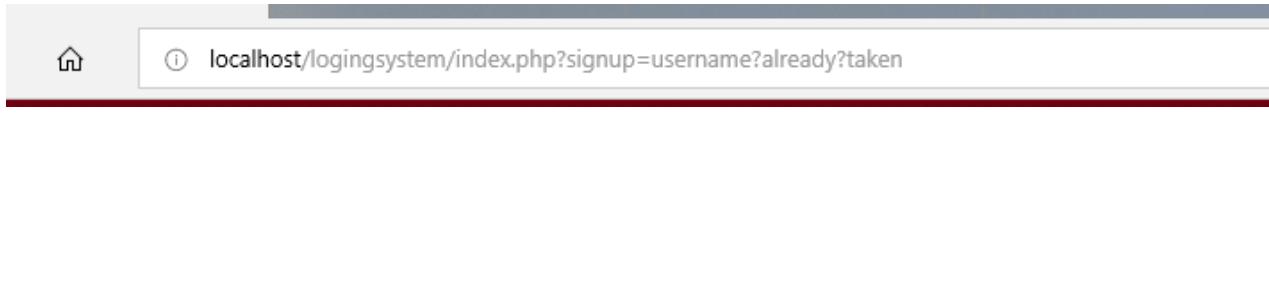

To register ,the user should fill all the detail.in the main2.js java script file is validating the user inputs .If user forgot to enter any of these field, an alert box will be poped up.

.And even though the user entered all the fields, the e-mail is validate by another java script function (in main2.js).

And the functionality is its prohibited to enter a username which is already taken by another user.and it will send back to the register page(index.php)

If user enter all the data the data correctly the signup.inc.php(inside the include folder) php file will store it in the data base and direct to the home page.

Prior to do this the data base should be created.

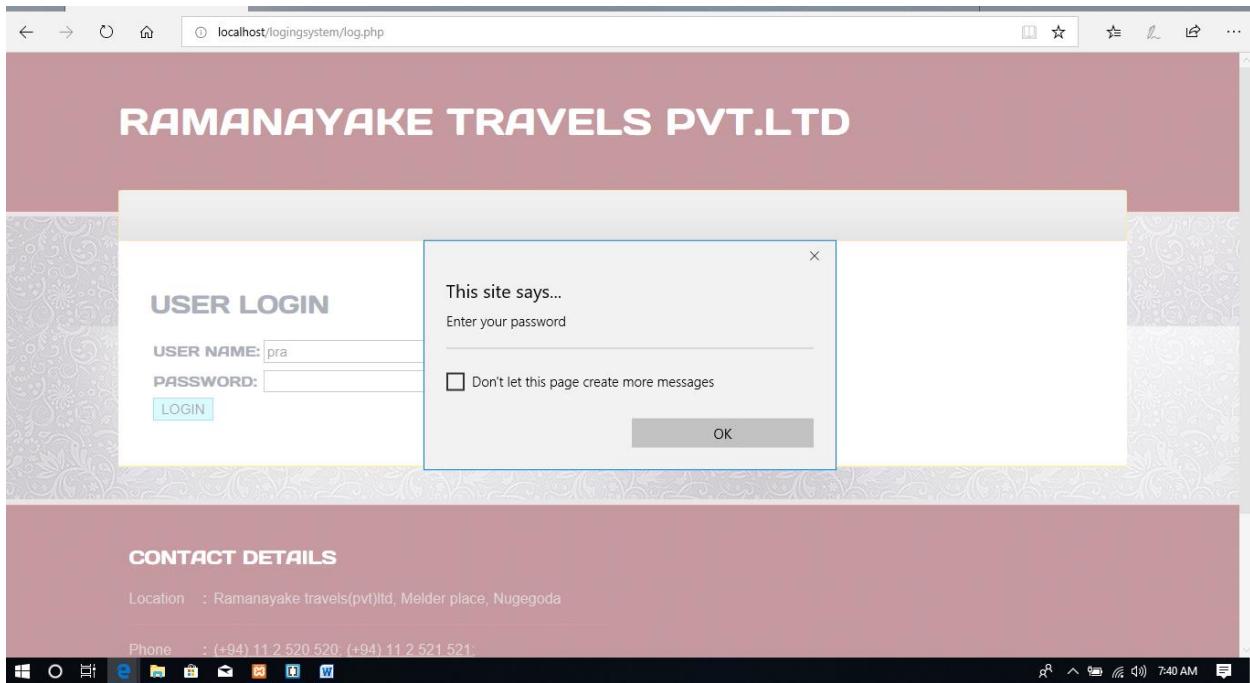

2. Log in page(log.php)

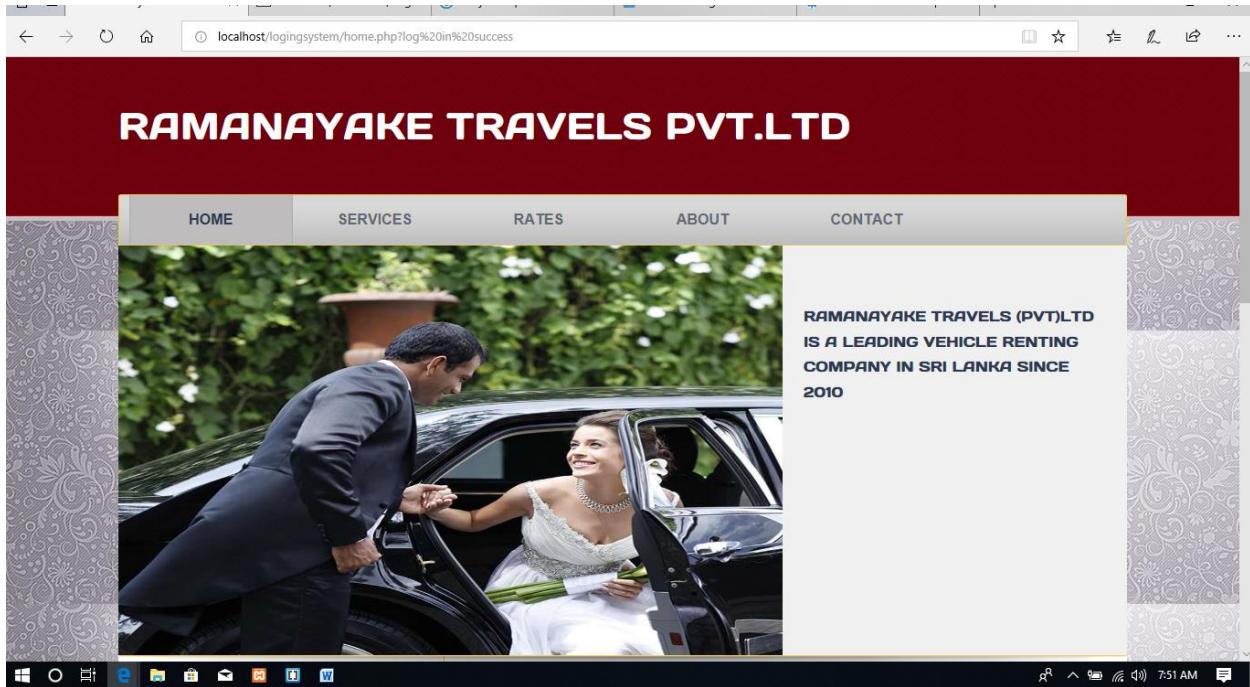

If the user click the log in link in register(index.php)page user will be direct to this log in page(log.php)

In this page also the fields are validated by main2.js java script file

After user enter valid password and a user name ,the log.inc.php (inside the include folder)file will compare it with the data base.and after thatit will direct to the home page(home.php).

3. Home page(home.php)
